HOW DO BANK MACHINES WORK?

HUMOR CORNER

MOMS NOW VS. MOMS THEN:

"That word is inappropriate."

"Say that again and I'll wash your mouth out with soap."

"Good job trying one bite of the dinner I made. Now you can have Mac & Cheese." "You'll eat what I make, whether you like it or not. There are starving children in the world."

"I can see you're upset. Take a deep breath and use your words." "You better stop crying or I'll REALLY give you something to cry about."

"You can't walk around the block by yourself. I'll drive you. Text me when you need a ride back."

"You want to go out?
Take your bike. Be home before dark."

"I packed your bento box with almond butter on whole grain, kale chips, and an organic smoothie." "Take a brown bag with a bologna sandwich on Wonder Bread. Grab a Twinkie and a Hawaiian Punch too." Original meaning of a deck of playing cards:

52 cards for 52 weeks in the year.

2 colors for day and night

4 suits for the 4 seasons and 13 weeks per season.

12 court cards representing the 12 months.

If we add each of the cards (ace + ace + ace + ace + two + two + three + seven + eight etc) of the game we will get 364.

Jokers were used in leap year.

My mind is blown.

One of the display new cases in the Annex that was created using various eras of badges at the site that were just stacked in the display cabinets in the Museum. Badges Rippee, R. for John Andrews, Paul Gabbard, Joe Sinosky, Elvino Marangoni, E. Marangoni, Ed Calderon, R. L. Gotelli, George J. Facer, and G. W. Facer.

The remaining Shell Chemical, Martinez Plant, badges span years of issue dates. Some of those are Ron Duhame issued on 5/10/68, :Louis R. Della Rosa (Dale's dad) issued on 5/1/1953, and Lloyd Lawson found his mother's badge also in the case.

This Clubhouse photo was created from a collage of all the photos of employees from the site over many years. It is a true work of art. Below is an enlarged portion of the photo shown how the pictures of employees made the larger view.

A Very Special Bank Account

Imagine you had a bank account that deposited $86,400 each morning. The account carries over no balance from day to day, allows you to keep no cash balance, and every evening cancels whatever part of the amount you had failed to use during the day. What would you do? Draw out every dollar each day!

We all have such a bank. Its name is Time. Every morning, it credits you with 86,400 seconds. Every night it writes off, as lost, whatever time you have failed to use wisely. It carries over no balance from day to day. It allows no overdraft so you can't borrow against yourself or use more time than you have. Each day, the account starts fresh. Each night, it destroys an unused time. If you fail to use the day's deposits, it's your loss and you can't appeal to get it back.

There is never any borrowing time. You can't take a loan out on your time or against someone else's. The time you have is the time you have and that is that. Time management is yours to decide how you spend the time, just as with money you decide how you spend the money. It is never the case of us not having enough time to do things, but the case of whether we want to do them and where they fall in our priorities.
